ABOUT US

Dolopia is a niche producer of premium delicacies, rooted in the rich culinary traditions of Central Greece and committed to excellence in every detail. While the company draws inspiration from its heritage, its capabilities extend far beyond local recipes.

With a flexible structure and direct client communication, Dolopia is recognized as one of Greece's leading gourmet producers.

Your label. Our expertise.

A product your customers will remember.

Inspired by nature's rhythm and the quiet pleasure of rich aromas, we craft creations that feel pure, balanced, and quietly distinctive — ready to carry your label with grace.

WHY PRIVATE LABEL WITH US

Partnering with Dolopia means working with a producer who understands the needs of boutique retailers, specialty shops, and discerning importers.

Low minimum order quantities – starting from approximately half a palette and even less when combining multiple products.

Enabling easy launch or expansion of a private label line.

Supporting the creation of unique, high-end products aligned with your brand's vision and market positioning.

Ensuring artisan-level quality, personalized support, and adaptable formats.

Flexibility is built into every step of the process, from recipe development to packaging options.

OUR PRODUCT RANGE

Dolopia develops a broad portfolio of products for private label across several categories.

01

TOMATO-BASED PRODUCTS

These include tomato-based sauces for pasta or other culinary uses, ketchups, and dense tomato preparations enriched with vegetables and spices.

02

VEGETABLE SPREADS

Vegetable spreads – with or without cheese – are available in a variety of textures and intensities, including red pepper-based options ranging from mild to hot.

03

PASTA & SWEET PRESERVES

Alongside our core range, we also offer a curated selection of air-dried pasta and fruit preserves. These are available in select quantities to complement a broader assortment.

04

ADDITIONAL OFFERINGS

Additional offerings cover appetizers, salads, and seasonal vegetables or mushrooms preserved in oil. Jams and marmalades can also be produced upon request.

05

CUSTOMIZATION OPTIONS

All recipes can be tailored in style and structure – creamy, chunky, smooth, thick-set, or spicy – to suit specific product positioning and market requirements.

PACKAGING OPTIONS

Packaging solutions are available for both retail and horeca purposes, with formats ranging from small jars to larger-volume packs suitable for food service.

Label and box designs can be developed in collaboration with the client or supported by Dolopia's team as an additional service.

Gift boxes are also available for curated selections.

Product sizes for creations in jars range from 50g up to 400g net weight.

For HORECA clients, aseptic bags (approx. 1.8kg net weight) are used instead of jars.

Pasta sizes in retail packaging can be varied from 250g to 2kg.

Pasta for restaurants and hotels can be delivered in 5kg boxes.

QUALITY ASSURANCE

Production operates under the ISO22000:2018 food safety management system, ensuring consistency, hygiene, and full traceability at every stage. Quality checks are applied throughout the process to maintain high standards of taste, texture, and safety, while preserving the handcrafted character that defines Dolopia's products.

Award winning flavours that speak for themselves

This commitment to quality, combined with artisan expertise and operational precision, makes Dolopia a trusted and versatile partner for private label collaborations.

PRODUCTION CAPABILITIES

Dolopia handles both small-batch and large-scale production with efficiency and care. Lead times vary depending on order size, starting from approximately 15 days for smaller batches.

Clients may choose to relabel existing recipes or request fully customized products. Recipes can be developed from scratch or adapted to meet specific market goals in terms of taste, presentation, sizing, and overall positioning.

*ALL CUSTOMIZATIONS ARE DONE WITH A STRONG
FOCUS ON QUALITY AND CONSISTENCY.*

CLIENT EXPERIENCE

Dolopia has established successful partnerships with a diverse range of private label clients both domestically and internationally.

Each client is regarded as a valued creative collaborator, with a partnership built on respect and mutual dedication.

COLLABORATIONS

Some collaborations involve relabeling Dolopia's gourmet products using the client's jars, lids, and visual identity. Others include co-developing new recipes inspired by client concepts or adapting existing formulations to achieve specific objectives.

These partnerships are characterized by open communication, transparency, and a shared commitment to excellence.

SUSTAINABILITY & SOURCING

Priority is given to using local and Greek ingredients, strictly avoiding powders, concentrates, or synthetic additives unless specifically requested by the client. The region surrounding Dolopia's production facilities provides a wealth of highquality raw materials, among them tomatoes, red peppers, zucchini, plums, apples, walnuts, and herbs like oregano. Recyclable glass jars are used to support sustainable packaging. The outcome is a clean, authentic product that honors the land, culture, and people behind it.
